Auction Donation

As an auction donor, your support benefits the Museum directly, while providing you with excellent exposure to one of Bozeman's most sophisticated audiences. All proceeds help to keep the Museum of the Rockies, one of Montana's premier educational and cultural institutions, vibrant and accessible.

Auction Donors Receive

- Recognition as a donor of an elegant and fun-filled community event
- Recognition in print advertising in the Bozeman Daily Chronicle and the event program (sent to 1,000 guests and potential bidders up to three weeks before the event)
- Acknowledgment with corporate/individual name on the Museum's event webpage
- Presentation of business cards and marketing materials next to the auction item at the event
- Tax reporting letter following the donation

Did You Know?

- The Museum of the Rockies is one of just 750 museums (out of 16,000 in the country) which are accredited by the American Association of Museums
- The Museum is an affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution and it is a federal repository for fossils
- The Museum hosted over 158,000 visitors in 2007. Approximately two-thirds of the visitors were from Montana. Forty percent were children.
- During the 2006–2007 school year, approximately 1 out of every 10 Montana schoolchildren grades K–12 visited the Museum of the Rockies (That's over 13,000 children!)
- All schoolchildren in Montana are allowed free admission into the Museum and most of the transportation costs are covered as well

Wouldn't you like to be part of such an influential event and institution?
